

Feeding Hong Kong

Why we started

Food insecurity

Food waste

The FHK model

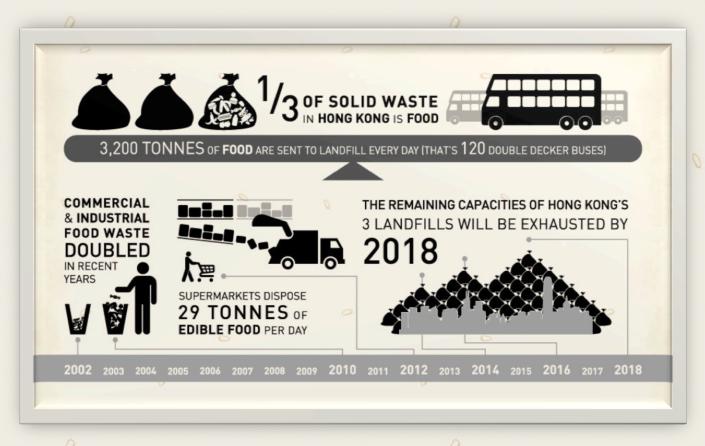

Companies with excess food

Charities providing food support to individuals & families in need

Why we target donated food instead of purchasing

Challenge

Opportunity

Solution

Opportunities for companies to donate

Short shelf life

Damaged packaging

Approaching sell-by dates

Minor recipe variation

Surplus inventory

Labelling error

Out-dated packaging

Discontinued products

The FHK solution

Food rescue

Food banking

Donations we accept

Fresh fruit and vegetables

Canned, packaged, bottled non-perishables foods

Baked & fresh prepared foods (Bread, pastries, sandwiches, salads etc)

Refrigerated and frozen foods (including meat, fish)

Pre-packaged non-foods (Tissues, soap, shampoo etc)

Dairy products
(Milk, yoghurt, butter, cheese etc)

Why we deliver to charities, not individuals

Feeding Hong Kong

- Logistics experts
- Warehouse experts
- Food handling experts

Charities

- Field experts
- Welfare experts
- Established distribution channels

Separation of expertise = more efficiency and less duplication

Who our charity partners help

47 charities across 14 districts

Children and the elderly

Homeless and shelter insecure

Low income families and the working poor

Refugees, migrant workers and new mainland arrivals

A win-win solution

Companies

Charities

Additional resources to help underprivileged individuals & families; increase quality & variety of food distributed

Policy makers

Reduce food waste & extend landfill capacity

Hong Kong

Positive social & environmental impact; stronger sense of community

Challenges with food donors

- Fear of liability
- Signing of legal agreement
- Surplus nature when, what & how much
- Short-dated food
- Out of hours collections

Challenges with charities

- Detailed application process
- Signing of legal agreement
- Meeting their specific food needs
- Short-dated food
- Limited storage facilities

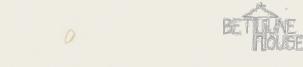

But challenges can be overcome!

49 Food Donors 10 tonnes / mth

Receive Sort Distribute

What next for FHK?

Chefs in the Community

The Breakfast Club

Thank you

www.feedinghk.org